C. P. R. Promise To Burn Pass Coal

The following letter from the Minister of Public Works to Mayor Morrison, of Coleman, will be read with interest:

Edmonton, June 9, 1915.

Dear Sir:

I have just returned from a trip to the East, when I represented the Alberta Government in the delegation of Mayors who interviewed the Dominion Government re the unemployment question.

I also made it my business to interview the officials of the C. P. R. in connection with the coal situation in the Pass.

I have succeeded in getting their promise to burn coal, on their Manitoba division, which will mean that Pass coal will be burnt by the C.P.R. on all their Western divisions west of Winnipeg on the mountains.

Unfortunately they have a very large amount of coal in bank, practically nearly six month's supply. I could not get very much satisfaction in my efforts to get them to bake more coal immediately. However, I am hopeful that they will bake more than they have been taking in the past month or so.

I might say that I am having our Mr. Stirling go actively into the situation with respect to the market for domestic coal. I am having him ask the operators to co-operate with him, and he will make a thorough canvass of the situation in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which I trust will bring some results.

We are endeavoring to be very definite in this matter and if possible, to solve the situation before it is too late. Rest assured that we will do everything in our power here, and I am quite satisfied that we will have the co-operation of the operators in the Pass.

A. M. Morrison, Esq., Coleman, Alta.

Patriotic Meeting Sunday, 2.30 P.M.

A patriotic meeting will be held in the Blairmore opera house on Sunday afternoon at 2.30, to be addressed by Hon. T. M. Tweedie, of Calgary, J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R. (formerly head of the department of natural resources), and Robert R. Campbell, M.L.A. for this district, on behalf of the Patriotic Fund and the Red Cross Society. Some special music is being provided.

Local Masonic Lodge Receives Charter

S. Y. Taylor, provincial grand master of the Masoula Order, was in Blairmore on Monday, and officially presented the charter to the local lodge. The attendance was large, numbers coming from all points in the Pass to witness the formal institution. The officers of Rocky Mountain Lodge No. 86, A.F. & A.M., are as follows:

W. M. — G. A. Passmore. S. W. — J. W. Verge. J. W. — P. M. Christopher. Treasurer — J. F. Hunter. Secretary — W. Joyce.

Worshipful Master — A. C. Buchanan. S. D. — P. F. Bolger.

J. D. — W. S. Hottel. S. S. — Owen Morgan. J. S. — J. R. Smith.

Chaplain — W. H. Muncester.

The lodge meets twice each month in the Oddfellows' hall.

The grand master was assisted by District Deputy W. L. Oumette, Coleman, and Past Master M. M. Dewart, of Calgary.

The above lodge has been working under dispensation for about a year.

Blairmore Red Cross

NOTICE: Sewing meeting on Tuesday next at usual time and place.

July 2nd has been set as the date for our Flag Day. It is the purpose of this branch to canvass outside points as well as the home town. Let all work together and try to reach the $50.00 mark on that day.

Word has been received from headquarters, that a contribution of $50.00 will pay for the upkeep of the Blairmore Red Cross in the Chedoke Hospital, for one year. Make your contribution as generously as possible, on Flag Day and we will be able to do it.

On Sunday afternoon next, at 2.30 there will be a Patriotic meeting in the Opera House, at which several of our prominent public men of Alberta will speak. A collection will be taken on behalf of the Patriotic and Red Cross Societies. We wish for the posters.

Mr. John M. Imrie

Newspaper men throughout Canada generally will regret to learn from a bulletin recently sent out by the Canadian Press Association, of the continued indisposition of Mr. John M. Imrie, manager of the association. It is gratifying to find, however, that Mr. Imrie's resignation, which was tendered to a special meeting of the Board of Directors held at Toronto on May 21, was not accepted, but that leave of absence was granted him instead for six months, or a year if that period should be necessary to effect a complete restoration to health.

In late years Mr. Imrie has devoted his attention and energy to promoting the interests of the newspaper of Canada and his splendid efforts have produced results that are thoroughly appreciated.

It is to be heartily hoped that his health will be completely restored and that he will shortly return to his work as he likes so well, and for which he is so well qualified.

W. W. Dempster, of Victoria, has been elected grand master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows of B. C.

Thirteen thousand five hundred and forty-seven officers and men of the British navy, including marines and members of the naval division, have been killed or wounded or reported missing from the beginning of the war up to May 31st. Of this total 5,245 were killed.

Letters From the Front

In letters to his mother and sister, under date of May 27th and 30th, Walter Howe states that he had been out again and that the Lord had been good enough to bring him through with nothing worse than a shaking up and a few bruises. He did not know how he ever got out at all. It was no surprise for him. Only himself left out of a whole car crew—a red killed or wounded. The first shell took him off and the next blew up their gun. He was resting at a hospital on the 27th, but hoped to be back with the battalion in a day or two. He says the attention was very kind to him and the scenery was very much to his liking. A fellow was never to leave it. The weather was very hot, but the plains were chilly. He (Canada's). On the 30th he states, "Am still in hospital, but nothing serious. I was hit a couple of times, and my back is a bit sore, but expect it will be better in a couple of days. I think the last fight I was in was the hottest slaughter on both sides was terrible, but it is past now. I never was in such a tight corner as the one I just came out of. I shall never be the same again. How I escaped God only knows. When I came to there was no gun and the rest of the crew were either killed or wounded. Then another shell struck the parapet and completely buried me. The boys dug me out, but I felt rather blue. After that I carried loads. While doing this I received another slight wound on the knee, but it is better now. My back still bothers me."

On account of the memorial service being held at Hillcrest on Sunday evening next, there will be no service at the Central Baptist church.

The Conscript

"Waking on high, tremor I see
When stern duty calls I obey.
Mother and sister, my, weep not for me,
For I must be up and away.
Then give up thy blessing, dear mother,
Till I come home when marching along."
Thus spoke a peasant lad, bound for the light,
And thus gave the words of his song.
Chorus:
"We the intrepid warriors on high,
Beneath the brave flag we'll conquer or die.
None has a slacker's spirit from the foe,
Onward to glory and victory we go."
Oh, how he thought of that name he had Heard!
Then "told the moon and the fern,
When mother and sister are weeping and
Weeping that he might return,
Oh, how he thought of that name he Had heard!"

they were high,
And once more so happy and gay,
Then waking he'd had the sad tear
From his eye,
And, and, as he marched on his way,
There was the light on the powerful
eye,
And, and, the charge on the plain;
Many a brave gallant heart was laid low,
And many a warrior slain,
Yet said the monks and the priest
Brightly,
Ah, there was the peasant so young!
Cheering his comrades and foremost in sight,
He thought of the words he had sung,
Clear above the moon on the terrible field,
At night when the battle was over,
Then lay the boy who would die but not yield.
Alas, he'll never fight more!
Sadly his brave comrades lie him along,
And buried him there on the terrible
Oh, times they thought of the lad and his song.
He hopes will sing it again.

The Nation's Business

Facts are becoming known which indicate that Canadian skill and resources are not being organized to do all they can to serve the Empire at this momentous crossroads in its history. The head of one of the leading industrial plants—a real giant of Canada—has ever, too, too late, before The Financial Post the details of an offer received from the Government of France for the supply of our shells for the coming months of the year, and the beginning of next. It was not a mere request for prices, but a request preferred because the reputation for thoroughness and reliability which this firm has earned for itself. France, as well as British needs shells, and her agents are seeking those with the equipment to supply them and the skill to supply them according to requirements. To get them at a good price is offered better than from British authorities—and courteous and satisfactory insurance is given that as soon as the shells are delivered, as required, the cash will be handed over. More than that, our shells (and our shells) are offered to be delivered, as required, the cash will be handed over. More than that, our shells (and our shells) are offered to be delivered, as required, the cash will be handed over.

Attractive as this offer is, it will in all likelihood be turned down, not because of the price, the availability of raw material, or doubt as to payment, but because of unskilled labor. Strange as this may seem, in view of the country to take men from Canada to Britain, it is nevertheless true. While city officials are at the best of Sir Robert Lord, the man making for assistance in "making work" for the unemployed, manufacturers are anxious to keep their factories in the delivery of orders made through the steady drain on their staffs by the demands of Britain. Of the orders available for war material and the employment incident to their execution the Ministers must have cognizance.

The Liquor Act Campaign

Certain licenses are being employed in connection with the liquor act campaign which will not help to bring about an intelligent verdict in July. The decision which will then be reached will have a very important influence on the future of this province, and it is very essential that the decision should be conducted with fairness, moderation and common sense. The cause should be to have no of the liquor act campaign which will not help to bring about an intelligent verdict in July.

It should be recognized in the first place that there is room for honest difference of opinion in regard to such legislation. It cannot be denied that many previous attempts to restrict the sale of temperance by legal enactment have defeated their purpose, and the present measure should be analyzed carefully and calmly in the light of past experience and existing needs. There is in justification for the course that those who are personally in demand who fail to approve of the act as "agent of the whiskey ring" and so forth. If it is carried by such people to common-sense it will do nothing but harm.

Still more reprehensible are the direct influences that are brought to bear on individuals which restrict them from acting as their conscience and intelligence advise. These influences are being resorted to by both sides. Men who have a personal interest in seeing that the act does not pass are exerting pressure on those with whom they have intimate relations. In the other hand we find in the current issue of The Saskatchewan a letter from a leading publisher could be forced through the threat of withdrawal of ordinary business advertising to give "all the space we want for temperance news and cartoons free."

No cause, The Journal submits, was ever permanently benefited by such tactics. "There are more ways than one of doing things," the letter continues, "but this is a way that those who are sincerely desirous of bringing about a moral reform should be careful to avoid." Another thing to bear in mind is that it is to be taken on a distant, stateside which, if it is passed, must be brought into effect. It is not a "plebiscite," as some have called it. No mere opinion on a broad principle is being asked.

The act, if it is approved, cannot be taken in form, but must be taken in fact. That being the case, the proper thing to do is to examine it in its minutest details and to study the exact effect of each of its provisions. This study which should not be undertaken in a mood of overwrought enthusiasm for general ideas.

Finally there is the danger of paying too much attention to the conditions of the moment. We are living in abnormal times that call for many adjustments. In other parts of the world those who have been adjusted with respect to the "war industry" find it the most serious in July it will have to be enforced sales we return to normal conditions at the close of the year. If we could for it, it should be possible to believe that it will be to the public advantage, not because of the feelings expressed by the view of great stress and excitement through which we are now passing—Edmonton Journal.

Why Canada Was Called a Dominion

Even a child will talk correctly about the "Commonwealth" of Australia, or the Indian "Empire," and no one would supply either of those terms to this country. We are accustomed to take the expression of the "Dominion" of Great Britain for granted; but the origin of that somewhat unusual term is known to very few. When the great assembly of the British Empire was finally realized, and the twelve provinces grouped themselves together into one great confederation, a serious difficulty was presented by the choice of a suitable name. For a time almost a deadlock ensued.

At length one old member of Parliament rose from his seat and told his colleagues that he had read in his Bible very morning the words: "This dominion shall be from henceforth to the end." Accordingly he suggested that Canada should be known as the Dominion, or Empire, of Great Britain. The name was adopted, and it was promptly accepted.

Suggestions have been made within the past few weeks that something be done in the way of forming a corps for instruction in military and industrial drill and for shooting practice. It is felt that as the Empire is at war every able-bodied man should put himself in a position to be able to take part in the defence if necessary.

The methods adopted by the Germans have reached the extreme in barbarism, and have shown that there is no control over human and involving the lives of women and children, that they would hesitate to adopt. It has suggested itself to some of the people of Western Canada that one of the methods the Germans would adopt would be to set fire to our crops and industrial institutions to curtail the Empire's supply of breadstuffs and other necessities. The most effective deterrent to any idea of this kind, would be the knowledge that in every community there would be a body of men able to fight and shoot. Then, again, if the law is as long as many expect, further drafts of men will be required from Canada, and many more guards would provide an excellent preliminary training.

Wishes that there is considerable desire in this district for the establishment of some kind of training corps, and would invite correspondence on the subject.

The Army-worm.

The Army-worm probably shouls all other kinds of insects which increase in enormous numbers periodically, causes wide-spread anxiety among farmers when it appears suddenly as a locust, and in a very short time completely destroys fields of oats and other grains.

The Entomologist's Branch of the Department of Agriculture has just issued Bulletin No. 9, on the Army-worm, prepared by Mr. Arthur Giffin, Chief Assistant Entomologist, who has charge of investigations on insects affecting field crops. In this publication of 31 pages a full description is given of this remarkable outbreak of this notorious caterpillar which occurred in eastern Canada in 1914. The recent outbreak was the most severe of any which occurred in Canada, and the damage caused is estimated at $300,000. Five-sixths of which took place in the province of Ontario.

The value of the trenching method of control was amply demonstrated. No matter how big the advancing army of worms were, it was shown that crops could be saved from their ravages. In the bulletin the insect is described in all its stages, and methods of control are given. A full discussion is included on the life history and habits of the worm, its food plants, natural enemies, etc. The bulletin has several useful illustrations, several of which show clearly the damage that can be saved from their ravages. church on Friday night, the occasion being in honor of Wain's Goodwill, who has enlisted with the 13th Mounted Rifles. The choir presented Mr. Goodwin with a complete safety razor. After the presentation, the gathering indulged in all kinds of games, and a 10 o'clock supper was served. A substantial supper, after which games were continued till the wee hours of the morning.

Several Bellevueites appeared before the police court this week on various charges resulting from raids made by a couple of cheap "spotters," and the police have been kept busy. One Italian was found guilty of having on his premises more smelt-producing liquid than necessary for the regulation of the human system, or allowed by the liquor act of this fair province, and was fined $100 and costs, in all $109.50. Judge W. J. McLean, of Frank, presided.

Don't forget the I.O.O.F. decoration service at Hillcrest on Sunday evening next. The Oddfellows of Blairmore and Coleman will meet the local members here at 430 sharp and will parade to the Hillcrest cemetery, headed by the Coleman city band, where the grave of Mrs. John Hood will receive floral offerings and by representatives of the service will be conducted. Refreshments will be served immediately afterwards at the Union Hall, Hillcrest. Following the luncheon, at 7.30, a joint memorial service will be held at the Union hall, in memory of the 189 miners who lost their lives about a year ago. This service will be addressed by representatives of the different nationalities of the miners concerned, and by representatives of the church, state and fraternal organizations, and promises to be the most impressive and important service ever held in Southern Alberta. All members of the union, the I.O.O.F., and the general public are cordially invited to attend this service and assist in paying a tribute of respect to our deceased fellow workers and associates.

Members of the local Order of Oddfellows decorated the graves of deceased members at the local cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Gene Calkins has resigned her position as stenographer in the office of L. H. Putnam, and left for her home in Calgary this week.

W. H. Hannan sustained injuries from being thrown from a rig at Frank on Monday last, and was obliged to return to his home at Cowley on Wednesday.

Mrs. Mackay, wife of Principal Mackay, of the Nanton public school, and children, who had been visiting Dr. and Mrs. Mackay here, returned to Nanton last week end.

The C.P.R. steamer Metagama, which sailed from Montreal on June 4th with about 1000 soldiers and nurses on board, reached Plymouth, England, on Monday morning.

A large audience greeted Mr. Herbert Piercy at the Oddfellows' hall last night, and all enjoyed his interpretations of literature. On request, Mr. Piercy will appear again tonight at Central Baptist church.

Mr. Joyce, secretary-treasurer, went to Edmonton on Saturday last and returned to town on Wednesday. Mr. Joyce was in the capital to confer with deputy minister John Perrie with regard to the tax enforcement scheme.

The Enterprise has received a copy of the Game Act of 1915. Practically the only changes made are the prohibition of killing elk or wapiti at any time and the shortening of the close season for beaver, to December 31st, 1915, instead of 1920.

Try to picture to yourself the poor wounded soldier laid, waiting for the Red Cross ambulance to come and find him. Are you as badly off as he is? Well then, give your bit to help him out. Can you give the price of a gallon of gasoline for that ambulance? But give something—we will be around to get your offering on Red Cross FLAG DAY—July 8th.

A new (15th) edition of a publication which is very interesting and informative to all who follow the progress of settlement in Western Canada is now being distributed by the Interior at Ottawa. This publication, which is known as the Homestead Map, shows graphically the land situation in the Three Prairie Provinces up to the 1st January, 1915. The map is issued in three separate sheets, the Manitoba and Alberta sheets now being available for distribution and the sheet covering Saskatchewan to follow at an early date.

The British and French governments are looking to the provinces of Alberta for supplies of beef for their armies, and heavy shipments are being forwarded. It has been estimated that one order will result in the ex-saltation of $1,250,000 to the farmers of Alberta, and the laborers engaged in preparing the meat for shipment.

The annual memorial service for the departed brethren of the Independent Order of Oddfellows was held at Coleman on Sunday afternoon. Over eighty members of the Order assembled at the Oddfellows hall at 3 p.m., and proceeded to the cemetery, headed by the Coleman city brass band. At the gravesides the services were conducted by Bros. Hunter and Pizer as Noble Grand and Chaplain respectively. A large number of citizens, including members of the Red Cross lodge, were present to witness the ceremonies. On returning to their hall luncheon was served. Bellevue and Blairmore lodges were well represented.

Arrangements are complete for the memorial ceremonies to be held at Hillcrest on Sunday. At 4:45 the members of local lodges of the I.O.O.F. will gather at the Hillcrest cemetery, where the graves of deceased members of that Order will be decorated with flowers and the regular service held, after which luncheon will be served in the union hall. At 7:30 a memorial service will be held in the same hall, at which addresses will be delivered by representatives of the Miners' Union, the I.O.O.F. and the Church, and special music will be rendered. It is also expected that Hon. J. M. Tweed, Mr. J. S. Dennis, of the C.P.R., and Robert Campbell, M. L. A., will be present at this service. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a large crowd. A year ago the 15th day of June the great Hillcrest mine disaster occurred, cutting short the lives of 187 breadwinners and leaving hundreds fatherless.

A couple of "spotters" have been busy around The Pass for the past week endeavoring to bring trouble to those of our peaceable citizens who feel like keeping a small supply of joy-making beverage in their homes. Most of those rascals have long since acquired the habit, not only for the purpose of practicing financial economy, but also to avoid prominence around the hotel here or the street, and that they should be interfered with. One fact is noticeable, and that is that no attention is being paid by those "spotters" to anyone posted in our native dialect, but rather to foreigners such as Chinese, Italians, etc., who even through an interpreter cannot be made to understand questions brought to them by the authorities. As a result of numerous raids made, and parties brought to the courts, we understand that only one conviction has resulted.

A Lament in Advance

(From their Current, Sask., Herald).
It's a long way to Alberta,
It's a long way to go,
It's a long way to Alberta,
Where the bewery whistles blow,
Goodbye, from our old Jerry,
Goodbye, from our old Jerry,
It's a long, long way to Alberta,
When the whistles blow day.

Germany Vs. The Allies

The Allies' left is trying to outmaneuver the Germans' right, but the Germans' right is also moving around the Allies' left. Now, if the left of the Germans' right moves around the right of the Allies' left, then what is left of the Germans' right must be right where the Allies' left is. But if the Germans' right's left is left right where the Allies' left's right is right before the Allies' left's right is left before the left's right, let the right's left.

The Liquor Act is Not Prohibition

The arguments of the active supporters of the Liquor Act are minor, misleading, and deliberately contrary to the plain facts of the liquor situation. They tell foreigners that the Act means they can buy beer in grocery stores. They tell others the Act means prohibition. They say frankly that the aim of the Act is to protect the workingman. The old prohibitory act in Alberta was to protect the Indians. Are Indians and workingmen part? The arguments of temperance wander all over the field of misrepresentation. The arguments of the opponents are on the Act on which you are asked to vote. You are not voting for temperance, prohibition, or prohibition. You are voting on the Act. Read it.

The pronounced political activity of churches is pernicious to Canadian ideals. It is not the function of the church to regulate vice, control brewers, solve labor questions, spy on the police, pose as censors to movies, hold the ears of the city administration, rip up everybody in general net as regulators of the universe. The federal government allows religious freedom and for the same reason the church should keep hands off such questions as liquor traffic and other legitimate business enterprises. The church might well try to educate along lines of sane temperance but it should not try to lobby, influence, spy and legislate. We are seemingly slipping back to the days when church controlled state and the people lived in fear of inquisitions, martyrdoms, dirping, the stake, or other clergy blue-laws.—ADVT.
